Our Breakthrough Strategies Workshop isn't just a great training— It's also a great fund raiser!

Instead of just training your own team, why not invite area youth professionals to attend, and charge them a fee? Or, you can also network with other schools and agencies and permit them to send staff for a fixed group rate. Or, contact your local church, social service club or fraternal organization to donate funds.

You'll actually be fund raising while providing your own staff with the country's most powerful, information-packed, problem-solving training!

We provide (at no extra charge):

A master copy of a flyer customized with your information (Request your flyer at least one month before you need it.)

A master copy of the workshop workbook.

A mail list of every school and all/some of the youth agencies in your area. (Request your mail list at least 3 weeks before you need it.)

University credit, CEUs or clock hours (when requested sufficiently ahead); participants pay their own college tuition, usually about $50, and any clock hour charges.

You provide:

The copies of the flyer, the flyer mailing, and any publicity-- you set any price you wish for people to attend your session ($170 is typical), plus you'll process the registrations and payments that you receive.

The workshop site, AV equipment, workbooks and optional refreshments. Please plan to arrange ample space and equipment to fit the size of your group.

You pay our fee regardless of however many people pay to attend your class— so it can be easy to make a profit, although we can't guarantee that you will.
